...Sandy Doones!

But thanks to you kids, we found Ra-Men's stolen antiquities before Doones could get away.

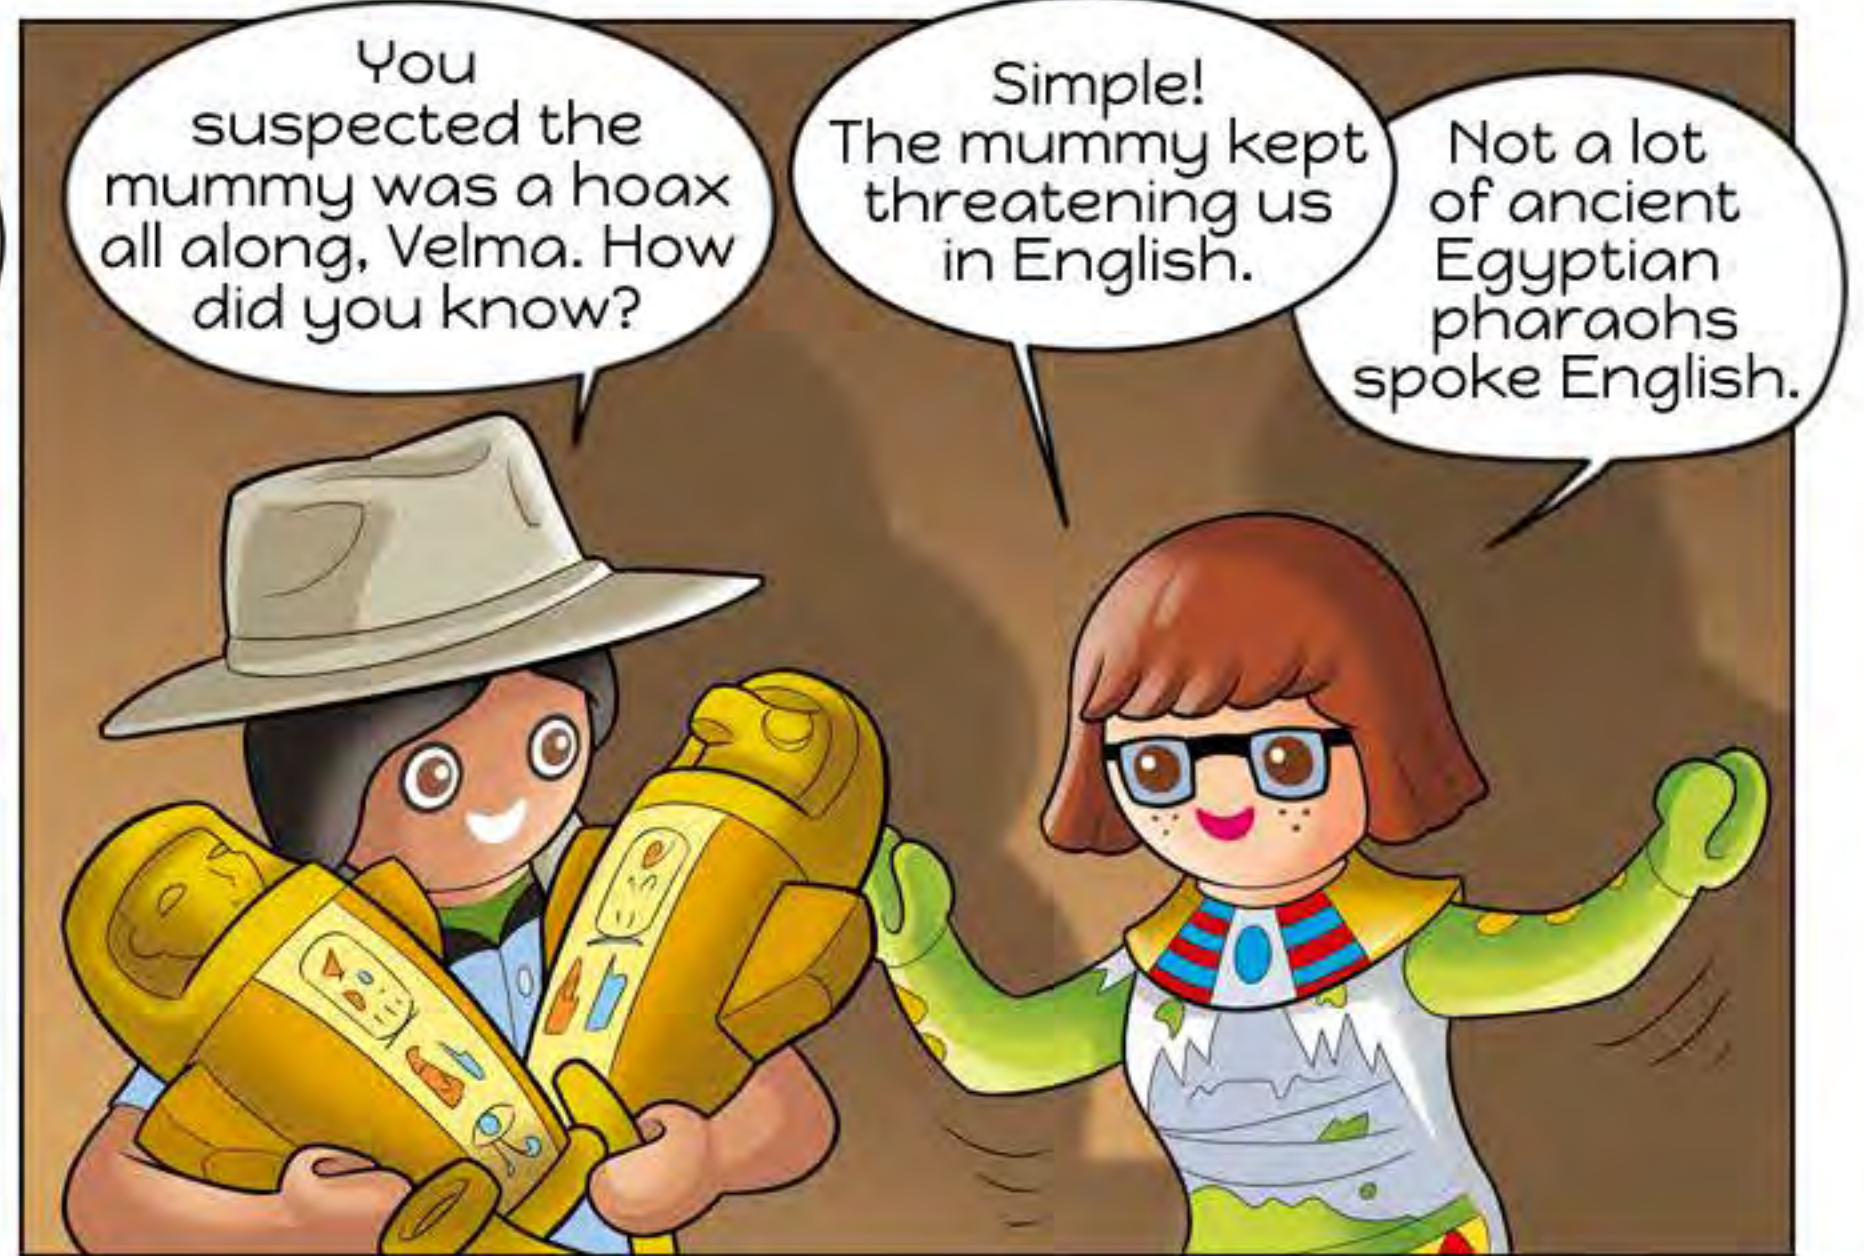

There's only one thing I do not understand...

I'm just glad you and Daphne are okay, Fred. I thought the pharaoh ground you up into mummy mulch!

We're fine, Shaggy. When the mummy chased us in the dark, Daphne and I accidentally ran into this secret passage! It leads to an exit on the opposite side of the pyramid.

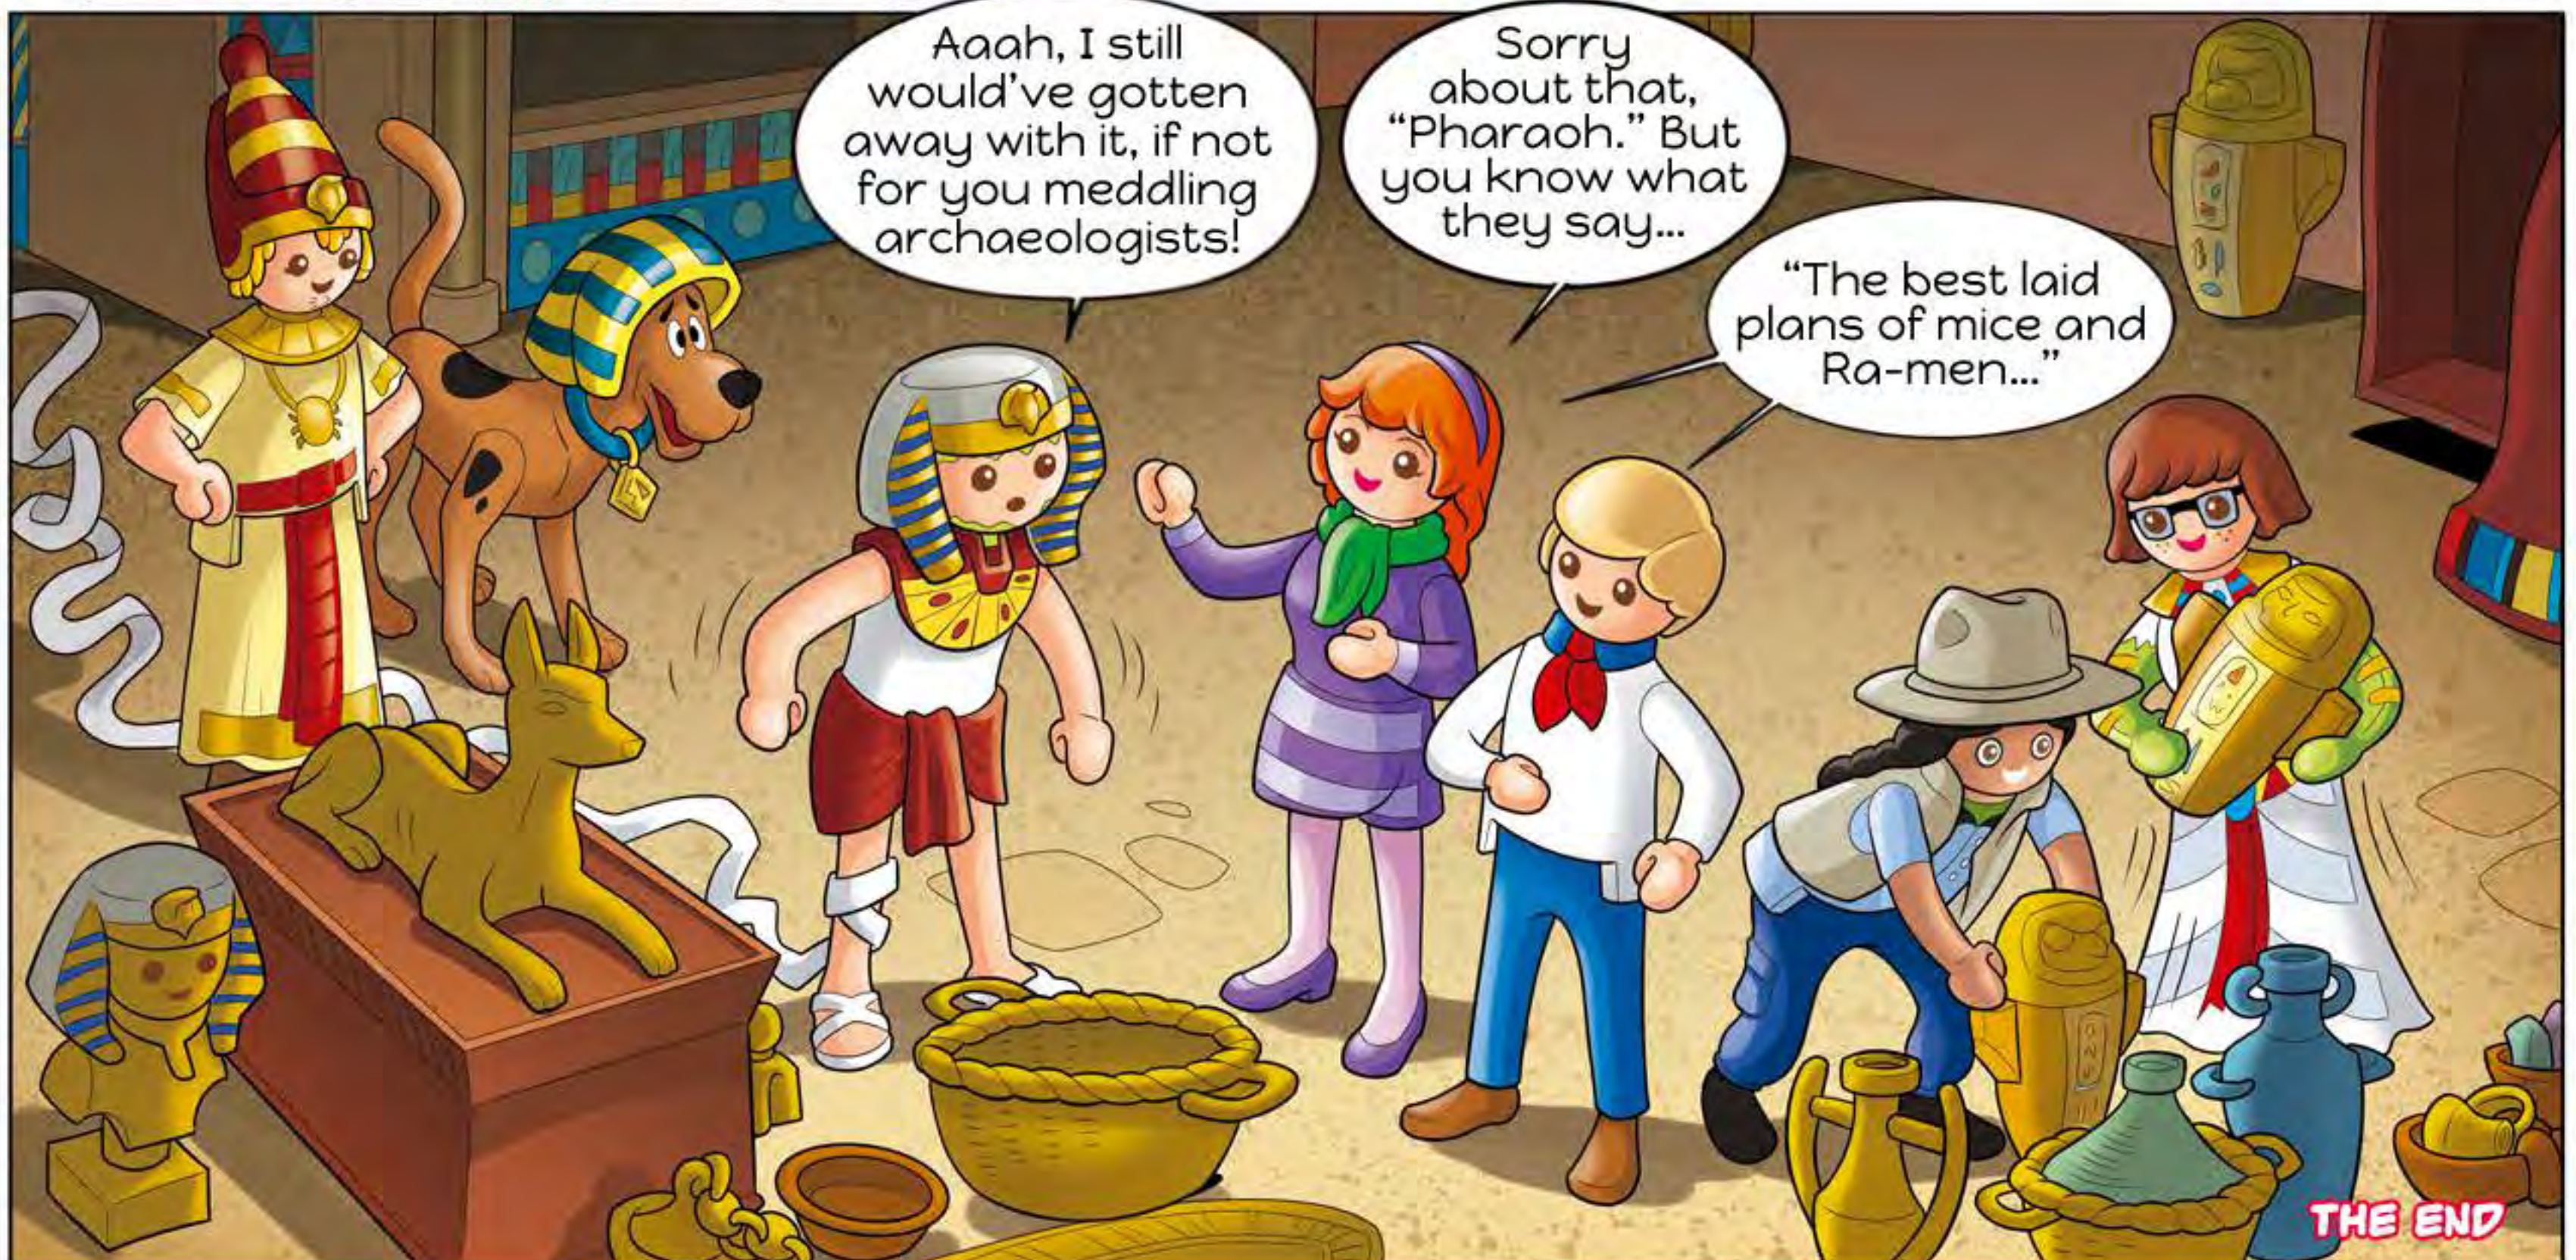

Doones was using the passage to steal treasure from the tomb without anyone seeing.

You suspected the mummy was a hoax all along, Velma. How did you know?

Simple! The mummy kept threatening us in English.

Not a lot of ancient Egyptian pharaohs spoke English.

Aaah, I still would've gotten away with it, if not for you meddling archaeologists!

Sorry about that, "Pharaoh." But you know what they say...

"The best laid plans of mice and Ra-men..."

THE END
