

Sharkbeard's

Ship's Log

SUPER4

35

I, Sharkbeard, the true ruler of Black Powder Island, am the terror of the seven seas. Not a day goes by when I'm not looking for treasure and making nasty plans. As a real pirate, I spread fear and terror and already the saying of my name makes people's blood run cold. Although the annoying Super 4 (Ruby, Alex, Twinkle and Gene) often get in the way, that won't spoil my eternal fame and they certainly won't interfere with my last ingenious plan any more.

After our last savage battle, my ship was damaged and will soon sink to the deep, dark seabed. So I'm forced to write down my most precious secret.

For emergencies and as a precaution for old age, I have hidden a small but very precious treasure in a secret place. But only those who prove themselves worthy of the treasure will find it. So she or he must first pass a series of difficult pirate tests to find the parts of my treasure map and obtain a pirate diploma. Whoever is the first to successfully solve the riddle should own my treasure.

Good luck, landlubbers!

*Indian Ocean 27.5.1779 3.08 o'clock
Captain Sharkbeard*

(The games are best suited for six to eight children.)

Task I

*A real pirate must be quick at grabbing and good at stealing.
Show your skills at the sock dance!*

(Stop dancing to music: When the music is switched off, the socks lying on the floor must be snatched as quickly as possible. Always have one sock less than children per round. If you don't get a sock, you're out.)

Task II

If a real pirate is accidentally captured, he must be able to keep his strength despite being tied up. Only in this way can he free himself again at the right moment.

Show if you can bite and eat a pretzel from a ship's rope without using your hands and arms!

(For this game you tie a small pretzel to a string or wool thread. Then the pretzel string is held over the children's heads. All children must cross their hands behind their backs and try to eat the pretzel.)

Task III

Attention! A horde of dangerous crocodiles attack. How do you behave?

(Now we need a good storyteller who can inspire the children. "All crocodiles are locked up in the room! Come with me quickly!" When you reach the room, open the door carefully, take a quick look inside and then quickly close again and scream - be careful not to frighten the small children. Then everyone goes into the room together where gummy bears were laid out before the game, these can now be eaten.)

Task IV

We just attacked a ship that was loaded with gold leaf for the Emperor of China. But when we were careless for a moment, the wind spread the gold all over the deck. Now we have to be quick and collect everything before it blows into the sea.

(This game requires cutting silver foil into many stamp-sized pieces. The pieces of silver are poured out in front of the children and spread out a little. Afterwards, each child receives a straw and must pick up the pieces of film by suction and place them in a container provided.)

Task V

Of course, our raids always take place at night when everyone is asleep. But during the last attack, the limping Henner made a serious mistake. In the dark, he mistook me for an admiral of the navy and told him our plan. As punishment he had to go over the plank. Prove you're a realiable pirate.

(All children are blindfolded one after the other and they have to know by touch which of their friends is standing in front of them.)

Task VI

It is particularly unfavourable if you don't clean your shoes properly before going to bed. If the sea is rough, all the shoes will quickly get mixed up and you will have to board the enemy ship barefoot. Hope your feet don't stink!

(All guests' shoes are thrown into a pile and everyone must quickly find their pair again. As an playing alternative, the shoes from the heap can also be assigned to other children by one player.)

Task VII

*Because of the successfully passed pirate tests, I appoint you Pirate 1st Class.
From now on you carry the name XY the Terrible and can make all seven seas unsafe.*

Signed Captain Sharkbeard

*Last but not least, the most difficult task still awaits.
You must correctly assemble the treasure map and solve the mysterious puzzle to get the treasure.*

pirate diploma

Because of your gruesome acts and successfully passing the pirate tests, I hereby appoint you Pirate 1st Class!

*From now on you are entitled to use
the name _____
the terrible and make all seven seas unsafe.*

Signed Captain Sharkbeard

The Raising of the Treasure

Now the treasure map must be put together correctly and the riddle must be solved:

*This animal is small and lively,
sits on the shoulder of the pirate.
The face is decorated with a skull,
if you're not fast, you'll get a draught in your head.
With short fur and long tail,
it rarely does a dance.
Are you gonna do the riddle?
We are talking about ...*

*(Contents of the treasure chest can be e.g. presents
with a few PLAYMOBIL-Figures bags, PLAYMOBIL Super Plus figures, chocolate gold coins, or marbles.)*

