

THE GALACTIC

Christmas Party

Little robot, Robbie, is handing out invitations for the cool Galactic Christmas party on Mars. As he's a little clumsy, Santa offers a helping hand.

Robbie
"Dear Santa,
can you help
me hand out
the invitations?"

Santa
"With pleasure, Robbie!
Together, we can do it in the twinkling of an eye.
Let's get started!"

The journey through the PLAYMOBIL world begins...

Fire Brigade

At the first stop, things are a bit tricky. The PLAYMOBIL fire brigade is on a large mission. With blue lights and sirens, the firefighters move out to extinguish the high flames. At the last second, Santa prevents the invitations from catching fire, but he lets Robbie out of his sight for a second...

Dinos

Fortunately, they reach the island of Roca unharmed where real dinosaurs live. They see three friends, Emma, Nick, and Will, fleeing evil poachers. But what is that? The T-Rex has chosen Robbie as his meal, but he can't bite through his metal exterior, and Robbie falls to the floor. They quickly pass out the invitations and leave.

Knights

In the Knights world, Robbie has no time to rest. Arrows and cannonballs shoot past him. "We wanted to invite you to our party," Robbie calls out to the knights. "PARTY? Did somebody say PARTY?" says the giant troll. Robbie is delighted to hand him the invitation. In gratitude, the troll carries the little robot in his backpack safely out of the danger zone.

School

Arriving at the School, Robbie has to wait for Santa Claus. He arrives out of breath, just as the school bell rings. The children come running enthusiastically, but they surround Robbie and not Santa. He is not used to anything like that. Robbie quickly passes out the invitations and off they go!

Horse Farm

The two are greeted joyfully at the Horse Farm and distribute their invitations right away. Robbie wants to give a horse a carrot and the horse immediately grabs it. Then, the little robot starts to stagger and...

Crystal Palace

The last stop on their journey is the magical Crystal Palace. Santa feels comfortable in the cold, but Robbie is freezing. But then he sees the pretty princess Finya and that immediately warms his heart. But he has to go, it's almost time for the Mars party!

"Our journey is over, Robbie. Great job! All the invitations were given out. The cool Galactic Christmas party can begin."
